

Unlock Your Golf Potential: The Benefits of Online Coaching with Bryn Parry Golf

As golfers, we strive for consistency, distance, and precision no matter where we are on our golf journey. However, time constraints, location, and access to expert coaching can make reaching those goals more challenging. That's where online coaching comes in—a flexible and highly personalized solution for improving your game anytime and anywhere.

At Bryn Parry Golf, we're excited to bring our online coaching platform to golfers at every level. Whether you're looking to fix that slice, refine your short game, or overhaul your entire swing, online coaching offers many advantages that can help accelerate your progress.

Why Choose Online Coaching?

1. Personalized Feedback Wherever You Are

Online coaching offers the same level of individualized instruction as in-person sessions but with the added flexibility of accessing expert feedback from anywhere. Whether practicing at the range, on the course, or in your backyard, you can upload your swing videos and receive detailed, personalized analysis. As a PGA of Canada Class "A" Golf Professional, I ensure each player gets feedback tailored to their unique swing, goals, and experience level.

2. Flexible Scheduling

Life gets busy, and sometimes, finding time for in-person lessons is hard. Online coaching lets you work on your game at your own pace. Submit your videos when it's convenient for you, and I'll provide timely feedback so you never miss a chance to improve, even on your busiest days.

3. Consistent Progress Tracking

One of the key benefits of online coaching is the ability to track your progress over time. Maintaining a library of your swing videos, drills, and feedback lets you see exactly how your game has improved and which areas still need attention. This visual record ensures you're moving in the right direction.

4. Cost-Effective Learning

In-person lessons are a fantastic way to learn, but they can sometimes be cost-prohibitive, especially for golfers who want ongoing feedback. Online coaching allows you to access top-level instruction for a fraction of the cost. You'll still receive personalized drills, technique adjustments, and detailed insights, all without the need for regular in-person meetings.

5. Learn from Anywhere

With online coaching, geography is no longer a barrier. Whether in North America, Europe, or anywhere else, you can work with me directly through the Skillest platform. You won't need to be local to North Vancouver to benefit from world-class coaching.

What to Expect from Your Online Lessons

Once you've signed up, here's how the process works:

1. Submit Your Swing Video

Upload videos of your swing using your phone or camera from multiple angles. The more detail, the better!

2. Receive Detailed Feedback

I'll analyze your swing and provide personalized video feedback. This includes voice-over commentary, side-by-side comparisons, and drills designed specifically for your needs.

3. Practice and Implement

Work on the drills and tips provided. You can submit new videos as often as you like, and I'll be there to guide you.

4. Consistent Follow-Up

We'll continue refining your game through ongoing communication, with regular check-ins to ensure you're on the path to improvement.
